

Before the "no call" list came out, 80% of the phone calls we received were unsolicited marketing calls. I work shift work and they would call day and night. I had to turn off my phone and risk missing important phonecalls.